Create full control of the taskbar appearance on Windows 10, Windows 8, Windows 7, and XP. Add custom colors to the taskbar area: keep it simple or customize it to your needs. Use and customize the Desktop icon: just drag and drop it to the taskbar area. Instant updates: when a new version of the app is available, it will be automatically installed and ready to use right away. Invisible or translucent taskbar: just set the desired settings, and Ashampoo Taskbar Customizer will do the rest. Main features: Add custom colors to the taskbar: simply choose any color you want from the color palette in the settings panel. Use the Desktop icon: just drag it to the taskbar area, where it will be replaced by the shortcuts. Translucent taskbar: fine-tune the transparency level, the colors, and whether the taskbar is completely invisible or just set to opaque. Undock the taskbar: the taskbar will disappear, letting you start working without interruptions. Use Ashampoo Folder Lock: to give you a bit more security, you can lock the taskbar and drag and drop shortcuts into that window to protect them. Ashampoo Taskbar Customizer Download Registry keys

A: Conrad Wolfram's answer provided a few alternatives, but I'm going to provide my own method, if it's any good. I'll try it and report back to answer this question once and for all! Do this: Right-click your desktop and select "Properties" Click the "Customize" tab Select "Appearance" Pick the checkbox next to the "Color" option Click "OK" You should now be able to modify your desktop background color. That's it! This is the only method I've found that works in Windows 10 (I also tried Chrissie's suggestions, but they didn't seem to work on my end). A: In Windows
