The Fork in the Road The Fork in the Road is the fourteenth studio album by British folk rock band Fairport Convention. It was recorded and produced at Castle Donington, England in 1977. The original vinyl release included a picture sleeve with a portrait of the band on its cover. The image of Roy Harper on the left-hand side was later used on the sleeve of their 2005 compilation, Past, Present & Future Fairport. Reception The album received mostly positive reviews. Michael Poggi wrote that "it is one of the most memorable collections Fairport have ever put together". Allmusic awarded the album four and a half stars out of five. "Don't Let the Breeze Blow You Off Your Feet" was originally performed by the band in 1975 and was featured on their retrospective Past, Present & Future Fairport album. The track was also included on their 2003 Past & Present box set. "Home And Sea" was recorded by the band
